WHAT WAS DONE IN STOCKS. Monday, March 27-p. m. The stock market was inert and lifeless to-day. and almost without exception the fluctuations in oth factions seemed content to await an impulse day afforded. The market was left consequently to the tender mercies of local and professional traders who live on fractions. When prices declined it was assumed that the selling was for the short account, and, on the other hand, advestment. The decline in Missouri Pacific, for instance, a stock which was unusually active and exceptionally weak, was charged to aggressive tactics on the part of the bear faction, although consequence both of the ownership and the customary inactivity of the stock. The largest adbeen favorite sales for the short account. North-121 5 10,800 121 5 129 1124 550 1415 78 837 4,925 547 870 119 49 1,140 Chicago Gas are sufficient illustrations. Chicago Gas are sufficient illustrations. The movements, in fact, were merely the results of the operations of room traders. It is worthy of notice, however, that both the opening and the closing were strong, and that, while the final variations were divided, the gains in character and extent were more important than the losses. The relative weakness of the Granger shares was possibly the most unpleasant feature of the market, but the declines in St. Paul, Northwest and even Burlington and Quincy were small fractions, while Rock Island obstinately refused to surrender more than a slight part of its recent improvement.

more than a slight part of its recent improvement.

The export of $500,000 gold by to-morrow's steamer was used on both sides of the market. It was urged that the particular shipment was one that had been withdrawn on Friday, and, on the contrary, that it was only a part of a much larger order, the rest of which had been cancelled. No alarm was excited by the renewal of the gold movement, because it is made inevitable by the condition of our foreign trade unless European buying of securities on an extensive scale should be begun. English markets will virtually be almost closed for the next week, and it would be unreasonable to suppose that new speculative ventures will be undertaken at the moment. At the same time the stock of Treasury gold has become so strengthened that moderate exports may be viewed without fear, even if not with perfect complacency.

The general bond market was somewhat more active than usual lately. The reported transactions amounted to $1,400,000. The movement of prices was irregular, but in the main strong. Chicago and Northern Pacific firsts advanced the fraction to 78 1-2, and Northern Pacific consol 5s 1 per cent to 71. New-York and Northern seconds rose 3 per cent to 84 on comparatively small transactions. Toledo, St. Louis and Kansas City firsts also, were in demand at an advance of 1-4 per cent to 84. The Reading issues were inclined to heaviness, but the final declines were small, although first incomes, lost 5-8 per cent at 47 3-4. Unusually large sales of both classes of West Shore 4s depressed their prices 1-4a3-s per cent. Reference is made to our full report of bond sales.

Money on call at the Stock Exchange was in abundant supply between 3 and 4 per cent, and the bulk of new business was done about midway of the extreme range.
